

International Regulatory Service

Aim

Compliant products around the globe

Do your products comply with the regulations of destination countries?

Are your products being tested and certified correctly?

Is your Quality Manager up to date on regulatory changes?

Do you employ systematic regulatory monitoring?

Compass is aimed at providing an integrated solution for product safety, quality and compliance.

Concept

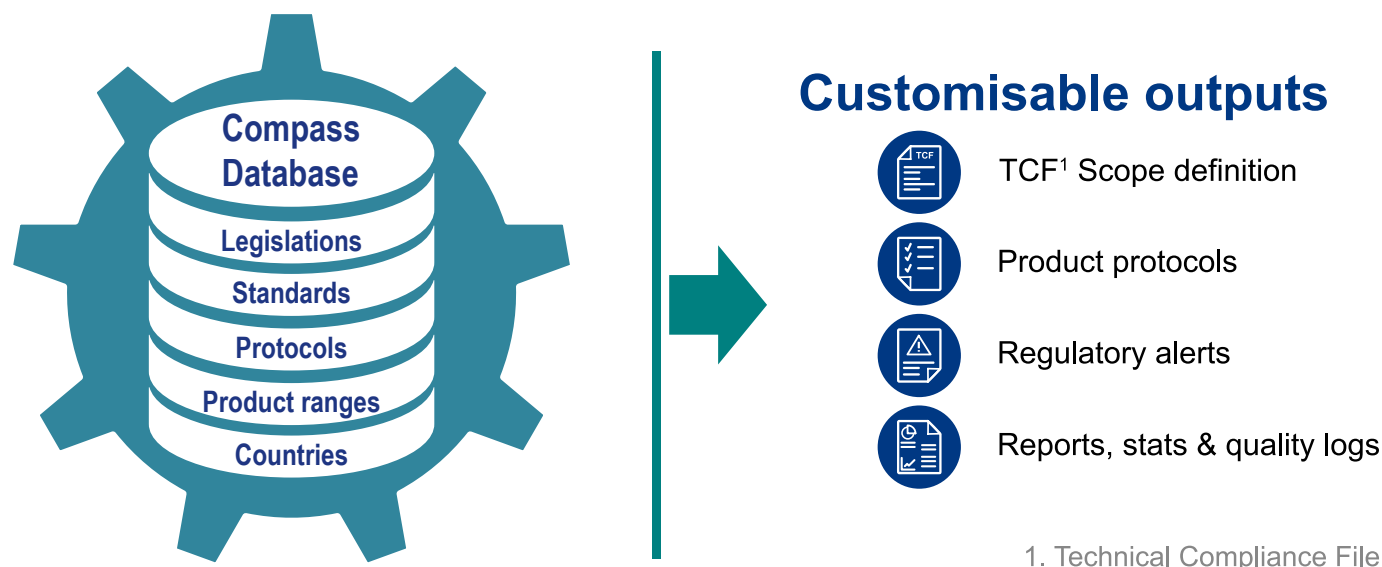

International Regulatory Database

Including:

Cross-industry Regulations and Directives, Standards and Testing Protocols.

Output:

Product-focused technical files, reports, alerts and valuable data to help build sustainable and effective quality and compliance programmes.

Database Contents

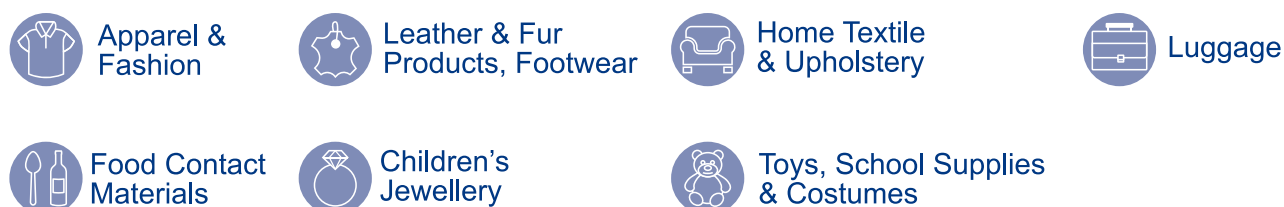

In continuous development

The content of this regulatory database is constantly maintained, expanded and developed.

The already registered legislations are thoroughly kept up-to-date, while new scopes are gradually added.

Project-focused research on specific fields or countries may be applied for, on request.

Check with our commercial colleagues for further information.
