

One-stop service - world-class, worldwide

Eurofins Agrosience Services Australia & New Zealand

Eurofins Agrosience Services Australia / New Zealand are a leading provider of independent applied field research and analytical services to the crop protection industry and seed businesses.

Complete Project Management

In today's environment, peace of mind is an increasingly important commodity.

Be confident that our Study Directors are 100% onside to ensure that all studies are compliant with your requirements and respect the OECD, EPA and EPPO regulations.

Eurofins Agrosience Services will be the single point of contact for your portfolio across efficacy, residue and analytical testing.

With a dedicated network of researchers and preferred partners, we ensure projects can be performed across all major growing regions in Australia & New Zealand.

Our studies include evaluation of the safety and efficacy of new agrochemicals, public and environmental health products and evaluation of new crop varieties. We offer outstanding technical knowledge and expertise to meet all of our customer's product development needs.

As part of the Eurofins Scientific Group of companies, Eurofins Agrosience Services aim is to be the number one contract research organisation for the Agrosience sector. Formed in 2006, Eurofins Agrosience Services has succeeded in acquiring some of the agrochemical industry's most highly regarded CRO's and laboratories.

In addition, the company has succeeded in attracting numerous experts, specialists and individuals that are well known and respected in the Agrosience field.

Eurofins Agrosience Services industry leading knowledge and experience optimizes our services:

- Experienced Study Directors and Project Managers with supporting Research Management Team
- Plant Protection Product, Crop Residue Studies (GLP), Crop efficacy and selectivity testing, seed services, observation and demo variety trials, multipurpose trials, abiotic and biotic stress trials line purification, early stage hybrid production and grow out seed services Biocide and Biotech studies, from early stage screening through to demonstration platforms in order to support sales
- From study set-up until completion, regular communication on the progress of each study
- Visits and meetings to evaluate your products at critical stages of the development project
- Data analysis using specialized software such as ARM or other formats according to your preference
- Study reports delivered in accordance with your timelines, containing all information for dossier preparation

A Dedicated Point of Contact

Australia / New Zealand in numbers...

Operational for more than 50

years

The team is comprised of more than 20

scientists

Between them,
they have over

250
years experience!

Eurofins Agrosience Services Group
easinfo@eurofins.com
www.eurofins.com/agrosienceservices

